The Emory University Libraries seek an energetic, user-oriented, and collaborative professional to serve as the History and Philosophy Subject Librarian. The successful candidate will be highly knowledgeable in the fields of European/world history and philosophy, have a passion for the teaching and research missions of the University, and understand the Libraries’ role in advancing those missions. S/he will possess excellent communication, interpersonal, and team skills. This position offers opportunity for strategic and interdisciplinary approaches to the selection, teaching, discovery, and delivery of digital and print information resources.

Position Duties
Reporting to the Humanities Team Leader, the subject librarian for European/world history and philosophy provides the full range of subject specific library services to the academic departments, including collection management, consultation, instruction, assessment, and reference. The subject librarian serves 29 faculty, 95 graduate students, and 236 undergraduate majors in the History and Philosophy departments combined. The subject librarian maintains and expands research-level collections, acts as an expert guide, provides research help at the time of need, and contributes to the programmatic and collaborative work of the Services Division and the library in general. Specific duties include:

- Serves as primary liaison to and actively develops professional relationships with faculty, students and staff in the assigned subject areas. May include other areas within the Humanities Team, if needed. Serves on the Humanities Team.
- Plans and delivers innovative reference and instruction services; teaches research tools and skills relevant to the discipline.
- Collaborates with faculty to achieve information literacy and archival pedagogy learning outcomes in course-specific ways, including providing instruction sessions and assignments, research guides, and/or tutorials.
- Provides in-depth, specialized research consultations in support of the entire research lifecycle.
- Knowledge of online and print primary sources in European/world history and philosophy.
- Develops content for subject-based web pages.
- Assists faculty engaged in digital scholarship projects and teaching and learning with technology initiatives. Collaborates as needed with Emory's Center for Digital Scholarship (ECDS) and Academic Technology Services.
- Partners with other libraries, especially research services in Emory’s Stuart A. Rose Manuscript, Archives and Rare Book Library, to promote teaching and research of primary evidence materials.
- Contributes to University efforts to assess and promote institutional scholarship.
- Develops and manages excellent electronic, multimedia, and print collections in the relevant disciplines to support the research and teaching needs of the Emory University community.
- Promotes resources using current tools and technologies.
- Provides marketing and assessment of library services.
- Works with US and European vendors to acquire materials in English and multiple European languages.
- Responsibility for additional subject areas may be assigned.
- Participates in professional and scholarly associations.
- Maintains up-to-date professional knowledge and skills in areas related to primary job assignment as well as maintains general knowledge of current trends in higher education, academic libraries, and information and educational technology.
- Provides reference assistance to Emory students and faculty, visiting scholars, and the public as needed and assigned.
- Adheres to guidelines outlined in the Handbook Governing the Librarian series for Faculty-Equivalent Librarians to ensure appointment, appointment renewal and promotion-in-rank.
- Participates in library and campus committees as appropriate for service purposes.

Required Qualifications

- ALA-accredited master’s degree in Library and Information Science or equivalent education and experience (subject expertise).
- Advanced degree in European History or related discipline.
- Reading knowledge of French and German.
- Demonstrated knowledge and experience with instruction, information literacy, and assessment of library services and resources.
- Strong interest in technology and tools for research and teaching.
- Commitment to user-centered library services.
- Strong understanding of the key issues and trends in instruction, collection development, research, and reference in the subject areas of European/world history and philosophy.
- Knowledge of scholarly communication issues and trends within the relevant disciplines.
- Evidence of excellent communication, public speaking, teaching, writing and analytical skills.
- Commitment to fostering a diverse educational environment and workplace and an ability to work effectively with a diverse faculty, staff, and student population.
- Demonstrated willingness to respond to new opportunities with initiative, creative energy, and leadership.
- Evidence of active participation, involvement, and leadership in local, state, regional, national, or international professional or scholarly associations.

Preferred Qualifications

- Knowledge of other European languages desirable.
- Practical knowledge of ACRL’s Framework for Information Literacy for Higher Education.
- Experience working with Aleph, ALMA, vendor sites such as Harrassowitz and YBP’s GOBI, libguides, LibAnswers, and other assessment tools.
- Background and/or interest in other humanities disciplines, such as comparative literature or classics.

Application Procedures

Qualified candidates from diverse backgrounds and life experiences are encouraged to apply online at Humanities Librarian (History and Philosophy). Applications may be submitted as Word or PDF attachments and must include:

1) Cover letter of application describing qualifications and experience;
2) Current resume/vita detailing education and relevant experience; and
3) On a separate document list the names, email addresses, and telephone numbers of 3 professional references including a current or previous supervisor.
Candidates applying by April 21, 2016 will receive priority consideration. Review of applications will continue until position is successfully filled. Emory is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer that welcomes and encourages diversity and seeks applications and nominations from women and minorities.

General Information

Professional librarians at Emory Libraries are 12-month faculty-equivalent positions evaluated annually with assigned ranks renewable for 3 or 5 years based on experience and background. Appropriate professional leave and funding is provided. Depending on educational credentials and position, librarians may be considered for a shared/dual appointment between the library and academic department as a faculty member.

Librarian appointees at Emory generally have educational credentials and professional backgrounds with academic library experience and/or disciplinary knowledge and demonstrate a commitment to continuous learning, professional engagement and involvement, research and scholarship, creativity, innovation, and flexibility. Such backgrounds will normally include a graduate degree from an ALA-accredited library and information science program AND/OR a discipline-specific master’s OR doctoral degree. In addition to professional competence and service within the library in the primary job assignment, advancement and/or appointment renewal requires professional involvement and contributions outside of the library and scholarly activities. Candidates must show evidence or promise of such contributions.

Emory provides an extremely competitive fringe benefit plan that includes personal leave, holiday pay, medical and dental plans, life insurance, courtesy scholarships, and tuition reimbursement just to name a few.
